World Equestrian Games Videos Help Viewers Share the USET Experience

The United States Equestrian Team (USET) has announced that three, 90 minute VHS videotapes will be available in late September, featuring comprehensive coverage of the 1994 World Equestrian Games at The Hague, Holland and an exclusive look at the Six American teams competing.

More than a quarter of a million people attended the 12 day long equestrian extravaganza, involving competitors from more than 40 countries. Now, the USET World Equestrian Games videos will enable thousands more fans to experience the thrill of standing on the pedestal during a medal ceremony, and to take an in-depth, behind-the-scenes look at the USET riders and drivers as they compete against the best in the world.

Produced with an exclusive inside look at Team USA's adventures in Holland for the World Equestrian Games, the videos will feature insightful interviews with key riders and drivers, and will allow every equestrian fan to vividly experience the thrill of competing in a World Championship.

A perfect gift for the equestrian on your holiday shopping list, the World Equestrian Games videos are available individually for $29.95 each, or as a boxed set of three tapes for only $85.00. Please add three dollars per order for shipping and handling.

Each tape will cover two disciplines, with a focus on the medal-winning performances of Team USA. On the "Dressage and Vaulting" tape, viewers can watch as USET's dressage squad of Robert Dover, Carol Lavell, Kathleen Raine and Gary Rockwell establish the United States as a major contender for a Gold or Silver medal at the 1996 Olympic Games. Viewers of this tape will be also moved to join in the applause for Vaulting's individual Silver Medalist, 18 year-old Kerith Lemon, of Saratoga, CA.

The "Endurance and Show Jumping" tape lets viewers experience the thrill of riding alongside Valerie Kanavy, as she gallops through the streets of The Hague on her last mile to the Gold Medal in the 100-mile Endurance ride. Never will grand prix fences look so tall as when seen through the eyes of the USET show jumping squad of Tim Grubb, Susie Hutchinson, Leslie Lenehan and Patty Stovel.

When watching "Three-Day Eventing and Four-in-Hand Driving", viewers will see Dorothy Trapp joyously pumping the air with her fist as she clears her final jump, securing the Three-Day individual Silver Medal. The American love affair with driving will be rekindled with elegant footage of the Championship for Four-in-Hands.

Behind the scenes footage not available on any other tape lets viewers ride with the USET as the thrills of each medal victory and the disappointment of each setback are faced daily. Emotions will run strong as veterinarians for the Endurance, Show Jumping, and Three-Day Eventing squads make painful choices to sacrifice their country's chances for team medals in order to spare their equestrian athletes. One will share the pride and joy of individual riders as they walk to the medal stand and into World Equestrian Games history.

Viewers will feel the quiet tenderness and partnership that exists between horse and rider as they rise to the challenge of international competition. These moments, and more, are waiting on three videos guaranteed to bring home from Holland the most complete coverage possible of the Team USA effort in the 1994 World Equestrian Games.

Orders for the video to feature the 1994 World Equestrian Games through an exclusive USET focus may be sent to "1994 World Equestrian Games video", c/o United States Equestrian Team Headquarters, Gladstone, NJ 07934. Please make checks payable to the USET. The cost is $29.95 for one tape, $59.90 for any two tapes, and $85.00 for a gift set of all three tapes. Be sure to add $3.00 per order for postage and handling.

1995 Directory of Competitions to Begin Third Year

In just a few weeks, the Winter/Spring edition of the Directory of Competitions will be sent to all current members. It's hard to believe that the Directory is beginning its third year. With each issue, more competitions are included and competitors are learning to rely on this invaluable resource.

In 1994, many competitions relied totally on the Directory for their entries and did not publish a separate prize list, but they reported that competitors are slow to use the Directory and are still waiting to receive a special mailing from the competition.

Competitors - please use the Directory! Soon it will become second nature, and competitions will no longer have to bear the burden of costly printing bills and soaring postage rates. Let the ADS do the work - your dues are paying for this service and it is to everyone's benefit to make this resource work for you. Several entry forms are included in each volume and include space for all the information necessary. If you have specific questions, call the contact person listed for each event.

Organizers are trying very hard to include all the information that competitors need so that they do not need to look for a prize list or other source of information.

We need your help to make this work. Let the ADS know how we can make the Directory work for you.

Let's Hear Your Sportsmanship Stories...

"I also have a sportsmanship story: I took my pair to the American Heritage CDE in Wisconsin in 1992, and one of my horses was decidedly lame at vet check. By the time I got back to the stable, I had two offers of single cart and harness to allow me to compete, one of the offers from another competitor in the same division. Pat Didier, who hosted the event at her farm, loaned me her own cart and her good show harness for the entire event, even though we had never met and she couldn't have had any idea how I would drive. I felt, and still feel, that this was an outstanding display of sportsmanship. And even though the logistics didn't work out for two competitors to use the same vehicle, I think that Barbara Chapman from Michigan should be recognized for offering them to me."

- Lyle Petersen, Waverly, Nebraska

The AHSA National Advanced Singles Driving Championship Attracts Horsepeople and Spectators Alike

Since the inaugural event in 1992, the American Horse Shows Association National Advanced Singles Driving Championship, October 28 - 30, 1994, at Fair Hill, Elkton, Md., has become a prized event for drivers and driving enthusiasts from around the country.

Schering-Plough Animal Health, a division of Schering-Plough Corporation, is a manufacturer and distributor of research-based specialty pharmaceuticals and biologicals for horses and other animals, and is the presenting sponsor of the prestigious AHSA National Singles Driving Championship.

Held over three days, Singles Driving is a demanding test of style, stamina and skilled horsemanship. The Championship title is awarded to the horse and driver who complete the competition with the fewest penalties in the three-phase competition of dressage, marathon, and obstacles.

The sport of singles driving has grown dramatically in the United States over the past ten years. This year, more than 15 top singles contenders are expected to compete for the AHSA National Singles Driving title.

The AHSA National Singles Driving Championship is conducted under the auspice of the American Horse Shows Association, the national equestrian federation of the U.S., and the regulatory body for the Olympic and World Championship equestrian sports — combined driving, dressage, endurance, show jumping, three-day eventing, and vaulting — and 18 other breeds and disciplines of equestrian competition. As the country's largest multi-breed equestrian organization, the AHSA has 60,000 members and recognizes over 2,500 competitions nationwide each year. It governs all aspects of competition, educates and licenses all judges, stewards, and technical delegates who officiate at these competitions and through its four-year plan, "Making Strides For Equestrian Sport,"
